

The Coco-lockdown is a time to learn new things: for example, our country has never had so many budding bakers...

Have you tried to bake your own bread yet?

Fortunately, if the bread is a bit burnt, if it hasn't risen or if you've forgotten the salt in the mixture...

... you can always go to the super-bakers to get some fresh bread instead!

However, for some other things it's a bit more complicated

The government has told all hairdressers and barbers to close their salons.

But they can't do anything to stop our hair growing!

Our hair grows between 1 and 2 centimetres per month, even during the coco-lockdown.

So in order to keep smart, some people have tried to cut their own hair.

But it's a lot harder than it looks, even with the help of pictures...

... Or videos ...

Blah blah now start layering your hair blah blah...

SNIP

...but most of the time, the result isn't that bad!

Coco and its gang of super-zeroes are forcing us to be intuitive and try new things that we never thought we were capable of...

... and when we do these things, we can be proud of ourselves.

What about you? What have you done during the Coco-lockdown that you are proud of?
